act very agreeable to me.

I stay alone most of the time when Joan is not down. If she is not more agreeable soon I shall not room with her this winter. She scolds all the time when I am around & makes it very disagreeable for the girls who come in to our room and Joan has got so now that she will not come down to see me. Eunice acts so.

I am up in her room
now writing this letter and am up here a good deal lately.

My dear Mamma:-

This
is a very stormy day.
It has been snowing very hard ever since yesterday noon and is still snowing. It is real deep in places.
They would not let us go out to church
or Sunday school
because the walking
is so bad.

I got the express bundle all right last night and I was awful glad to see those apples and nuts. I thank you very much.

for sending them. It seemed awful good to have them to-day.

You have probably heard by this time of Cora's wedding. She wrote to Grace and Eunice yesterday asking them to be present at the wedding and to serve punch. She told Eunice that I was to be invited with the rest of the family. Have you had your invitation yet. The wedding is to be at four o'clock Wednesday the 22<sup>d</sup> of this month. I would love to go if I only had something to wear. Miss White said that she thought that we might go if we were to ask Mr. Corthell. You see we would leave here at noon and I think it is possible I could come back the same night but of course I shall wait until I have an invitation before I plan very much about it.

Eunice and I do not get along as well together this year as we might. She does not ~~seem to~~

With love to all

Harriet.

P.S. I just happened to think that perhaps I could give Cora that needle piece which I have just finished. Do you think it would be a good idea? ~~I~~ <sup>you</sup> could not do it <sup>it</sup> here very well to make it look nice but could send it home and let you fix it if you think best. I have finished all the work in it and I think that it is very pretty.

Harriet.

Joan wants me to ~~room~~ <sup>room</sup> with her this winter and I tell you I would like to very much. The room on the third floor and I like her room very much. It is only a $3.00 room.

It is blowing awful hard now but has stopped snowing. This place looks quite a great deal different now than it did yesterday morning.

Miss Mitchell, one of the girls who rooms near Joan and who goes around with us quite a good deal, just brought me in some candy and so I had to stop writing a while. I got through with <sup>my</sup> piece after a fashion last Thursday.

I read The Hushers by Whittier and I was dreadfully frightened.
How is papa's back? I hope he is feeling better.

I have been out to walk nearly every ~~evening~~ night after school but this snow will hinder our walking very much for a while I guess.

I have worn skirt waists to school all of the time and hate to think of putting thick one on yet. They seem awful uncomfortable now.

Tell Ernest to write.

I shall go down to the photographer to-morrow and get those pictures of Willie if the walking is not too bad. Shall I send them to you or wait until I come home?
I think they will be quite good.
Well I must close this letter now as it is nearly supper time and I must get my hair fixed
